PREPARING A FELLOWSHIP NOMINATION

Process & Responsibilities

Three letters of nomination are required. CAHS will consider applications where none of the nominators are CAHS Fellows.

In addition to providing a letter of nomination that introduces the nominee and co-nominators, the primary nominator accepts responsibility to co-ordinate the entire application.

Letters should describe the nature and duration of the professional relationship(s) with the nominee and must address in specific paragraphs the characteristics of recognition, leadership, creativity, distinct competencies, and commitment to advance the health sciences.

The primary nominator and nominee should each describe evidence of contributions to advance inclusivity, diversity, equity, and accessibility in Canada. Co-nominators also may address this characteristic if they have knowledge of the nominee's contributions to advancing inclusivity, diversity, equity, and accessibility. Letters should focus on the nominee's impacts.

2024 RUBRIC

An assessment rubric has been developed to enhance transparency, impartiality, and fairness of the review process. This rubric provides guidance regarding Academy expectations regarding the six characteristics of potential Fellows.

Nominators are encouraged to carefully review this rubric and present clear and concise evidence aligned with the identified characteristics, in a manner that allows reviewers to best understand the accomplishments and potential future contributions of the nominated individual to the Academy.

ELIGIBILITY

Individuals are elected to the organization after a thorough nominating and peer review procedure. Successful candidates are able to demonstrate:

- A track record of exceptional accomplishment and impact and
- Sustained performance at a national and international level

The review places considerable emphasis on internationally recognized leadership and contributions that have meaningfully advanced the academic health sciences, health care, health policy or related impacts. Individuals working in government, NGO or private sectors are eligible if they have a stellar record of accomplishment in the public interest that attests to their ability to advance the mission and goals of CAHS.

At the time of election, Fellows working in a university will normally hold the rank of Full Professor and those working in other non-academic sectors will normally have senior positions.

At the time of election, Fellows must be either Canadian citizens or residents of Canada for the past 3 years, unless exceptional circumstances prompt the Board to rule otherwise.

THE NOMINATION PROCESS

Nominators & Responsibilities

CAHS will consider applications where none of the nominators are CAHS Fellows.

The primary nominator accepts responsibility to coordinate the entire application by filling out the nomination form and choosing the two co-nominators.

The co-nominators provide letters of recognition.

Letters should describe the nature and duration of the professional relationship(s) with the nominee and must address in specific paragraphs the characteristics of recognition, leadership, creativity, distinct competencies, and commitment to advance the health sciences.

The primary nominator and nominee should each describe evidence of contributions to advance inclusivity, diversity, equity, and accessibility in Canada. Co-nominators also may address this characteristic if they have knowledge of the nominee's contributions to advancing inclusivity, diversity, equity, and accessibility. Letters should focus on the nominee's impacts.

THE RE-APPLICATION PROCESS

A large number of outstanding candidates are nominated each year. It is inevitable that some are not elected in the first year.

- Nominations are active for one year after the first submission and updates to the original nomination package are accepted through this period.
- If an applicant is unsuccessful on two occasions, they will need to wait two years to re-apply.

What constitutes an update? Well, it may be the replacement of one piece of the original submission or the entire nomination package.

To be accepted as a carry forward nomination, we must receive written intent to join the process for 2024.

WHAT COMPRISES A COMPLETE NOMINATION?

1. DATA SHEET on nominee, citation and key words, succinct summary of nominee's overall accomplishments and contributions.
2. LETTERS OF NOMINATION from three (3) nominators (including the primary nominator which appears first). Each letter must not be longer than 3 pages.
3. PERSONAL STATEMENT from the nominee on the commitment s/he is willing to make to advance academic health sciences, as well as a personal statement from the nominee describing their contributions to advancing inclusivity, diversity, equity, and accessibility in Canada. A note for the guidance of the nominee in this regard is included in this nomination package and should be provided to the nominee by the first nominator.
4. CURRICULUM VITAE of the nominee that clearly identifies trainees as authors of papers by means of an asterisk on the trainee's name.

CITATION & DETAILED APPRAISAL

The 100-word citation will highlight accomplishments and contributions of the nominee in the third person. The language used should be suitable for ceremonies, lay communications and media releases. If a nominee is elected, the citation is printed in the program for the Induction Ceremony and is posted on the Academy's website.

In a 500-word appraisal the primary nominator will summarize the nominee's established, internationally recognized leadership and impact that has meaningfully advanced the academic health sciences. This is in addition to the primary nominator's personal nomination letter.

THE REVIEW PROCESS

FELLOWSHIP COMMITTEE & RESPONSIBILITIES

All Reviewers are Academy Fellows.

Reviewers are selected to ensure balanced representation from different professions, disciplines, scholarly backgrounds.

In addition, Reviewers represent different regions of Canada, and with attentiveness to Canada's rich and growing diversity.

Nominations are welcomed and reviewed in either of Canada's official languages.

REVIEWER ASSIGNMENT

Each nomination is assigned to an interdisciplinary and interprofessional committee of 4-5 members, all of whom are current Fellows from different regions of Canada and with diverse scholarly orientations.

We make every attempt to assign at least 1 of the reviewers in the same discipline as the nominee. In some cases, this is not possible, and so please make sure your nomination submission can be read and understood by all, not just subject-matter specialists.

Conflict of interest guidelines are used to ensure objective and impartial assessment by reviewers with no significant connections to the nominated individual.
